Case report. A 71-year-old woman presented with acute symptoms of upper abdominal pain, fever, and leukocytosis. Ultrasound demonstrated biliary stones, and, under fluoroscopic control, the patient underwent cholecystectomy. Two years later, she was admitted again for similar symptoms. An ultrasound examination showed a "mobile" stone in the right common bile duct. Extensive intraoperative exploratory laparotomy was performed that showed a stone on the roof of the bladder and both cystic ducts.
