Thanks to you all for your help, such as: Juha Tienes - maker of the awesome looking CO2 laser, which I am quite fond of. I acquired a unit Tobias Krenn The laser will be at the festival within the second week of October (100kg of CO2 and a 2x 1m² table, no, I did not know how that would look like when I took the video). In the meanwhile, there are in total five units available for you. I'm offering a screening for the films as well. If you want to check out the inside of the laser, you can do so via youtube. The video is a bit blurry, because I haven't had time to assemble the video from several hundred hand-held photos, but it is in the right direction of the best viewing. For anybody else not interested, you can probably skip this post. But if you're curious, here is a tip: I adapted a standard tripod which has a special built in plexiglass base which is placed on the floor and not (important!) directly
