===== About Google Earth Enterprise (GEE) is a free, web-based mapping and visualization tool. Google Earth is a powerful tool for earth sciences, engineering, construction, planning, and education. It is a good complement to other GEE tools, such as Google Maps, Terrain, and Fusion. About GeoTools is a collection of tools that use the Google Earth Plug-In. GeoTools tools include GIS viewers, map viewers, KML viewers, and KML editors. About For image editing of general geodata or general image data, the image request dialog box (image request dialog) makes it easy to search for an image that meets your editing specifications. The image request dialog lets you search the Google Earth Enterprise (GEE) Server for Google Earth Enterprise (GEE) images based on one or more parameters. If you are creating an image file, you can use the Google Earth Plug-In for Windows to perform some of the edits that need to be done when you save the image. If you are creating a Google Earth VR scene, you can use the Google Earth Plugin for VR Scene Maker to perform the editing that needs to be done when you save the file. For more information about these techniques, see "Using the Google Earth Enterprise Plug-In for Windows or Scene Maker Tools" in the Google Earth Enterprise 5 Reference Guide. The ST_GeomFromText function converts a text string to a geometric object. The feature type, the geometry type, and the SRID are supported. The ST_GeomFromText function returns the coordinates of a point object. The Google Earth Plug-In for Windows can be used with Google Earth Enterprise (GEE) Server or with your personal GEE Server hosted in your own data center. The Google Earth Plug-In for Windows allows you to perform a variety of edits on your images and KML files. For more information about these techniques, see Google Earth Enterprise 5 Reference Guide: Image Editing with the Google Earth Plug-In for Windows.
